- The nunchaku needs to be fully visible during the entire form. The only exception is when the nunchaku is thrown high in the air, above the range of the camera

 - There needs to be enough light available at the record location for good visibility. If the video is too dark to see it clearly, the form will be disapproved and will not be judged
 - The camera position must be straight in front of the form at a proper height, so do not record the form from the floor
 - It is allowed for the camera to slightly follow the movement, as long as the camera remains in the same position

 - It is allowed to have advertisements behind the participant, as long as it is not disrupting the form

- c) Every member of the jury will watch the form carefully, if needed more than one time, to come to a fair judgement
- d) It is not allowed for members of the jury to discuss the forms with each other, if there is any doubt it will be discussed with the director of the tournament
